Reject 04-160. XM Instant traffic and weather is too important a service to lose. It not only helps listeners to find alternate routes, but helps cut down on traffic conjection. I pay for the service and should be allowed to have it. If the NAB cannot change their business ways to compete with the new trend of radio, it is not my fault and I should not be punished for it. Competetion is what keeps American business strong. Next thing , the NAB will be wanting money like the airline's do, instead of changing the way they do business to earn a profit.
